

Williams Pear, vintage 2003

In 2003 the Williams pears from southern Styria (Austria) were lemon-yellow with a red patch on the side exposed to the sun at harvest time. Their smooth, juicy and flavorful taste indicated the potential for an outstanding vintage. Only then did we start harvesting.

Over time this brandy aged to one of the finest distillates of the last decade. We would like to describe it as follows: Well matured and bold on the palate, profusion of pear flavors with pronounced sweetness, powerful and full-bodied. Aromatic finish, long lasting pear characteristics, very well balanced.
